India Israel Engagement, Defence and Security Ties

Gurudutt Patil

The relationship between India and Israel has evolved significantly in recent years, with both countries seeking to deepen their engagement across a range of domains, including defense and security. Despite a late start to formal diplomatic relations, the two countries have developed a strategic partnership based on shared values, common security concerns, and complementary capabilities. This book explores the defense and security ties between India and Israel, examining the historical context of the relationship, the current state of bilateral ties, and the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead. The book also considers the broader strategic context, including the role of other major powers in the region and the impact of emerging security threats. The contributors to this volume bring a wealth of expertise and insight to the subject, drawing on their academic and policy experience to provide a comprehensive analysis of the issues at hand. Their contributions offer valuable perspectives on the complex dynamics of the India-Israel relationship and the evolving strategic landscape in South Asia and the Middle East.

Dr. Gurudutt Patil is a distinguished scholar and expert in the field of Political Science, with a specific focus on Indo-Israel relations. His extensive academic background and valuable contributions to the field have earned him recognition as a leading authority in international relations and diplomacy.
